GRADE 9 ENGLISH – LESSON PLAN 1

SCHOOL: _____	LEVEL: Grade 9	LEARNING AREA: English	DATE: _____
TERM: 2	WEEK: 1	LESSON: 1	TIME: 40 minutes | ROLL: _____

Strand: 1.0 Listening and Speaking

Sub-strand / Focus: Polite language – euphemism

Lesson Learning Outcomes

At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to:

- Knowledge: identify and explain key features of polite language – euphemism in the context of citizenship. Skills: apply appropriate listening and speaking strategies when discussing citizenship. Attitude: demonstrate confidence, courtesy and respect for differing views during oral interaction.

Key Inquiry Question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Polite language – euphemism” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to listen to a model dialogue, speech or recording; identify language features; practise in pairs or groups; role-play or deliver a short oral response; and give constructive feedback.

Step 1: Learners listen to or observe a model dialogue, speech, oral text or recording and identify its purpose, audience and key features.

Step 2: In pairs or groups, learners practise the target language feature or oral skill through guided tasks, discussion or role-play.

Step 3: Learners prepare and deliver a short oral response, presentation or performance, using appropriate language, turn-taking and expression.

Step 4: Learners listen respectfully to peers, give constructive feedback and reflect on how effectively they communicated.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

GRADE 9 ENGLISH – LESSON PLAN 12

SCHOOL: _____	LEVEL: Grade 9	LEARNING AREA: English	DATE: _____
TERM: 2	WEEK: 3	LESSON: 2	TIME: 40 minutes | ROLL: _____

Strand: 1.0 Listening and Speaking

Sub-strand / Focus: Oral literature – short forms

Lesson Learning Outcomes

At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to:

- Knowledge: identify and explain key features of oral literature – short forms in the context of science: fiction. Skills: apply appropriate listening and speaking strategies when discussing science: fiction. Attitude: demonstrate confidence, courtesy and respect for differing views during oral interaction.

Key Inquiry Question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Oral literature – short forms” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to listen to a model dialogue, speech or recording; identify language features; practise in pairs or groups; role-play or deliver a short oral response; and give constructive feedback. The learner then applies the skill in a new example or short independent task and reflects on progress.

Step 1: Learners listen to or observe a model dialogue, speech, oral text or recording and identify its purpose, audience and key features.

Step 2: In pairs or groups, learners practise the target language feature or oral skill through guided tasks, discussion or role-play.

Step 3: Learners prepare and deliver a short oral response, presentation or performance, using appropriate language, turn-taking and expression.

Step 4: Learners listen respectfully to peers, give constructive feedback and reflect on how effectively they communicated.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

GRADE 9 ENGLISH – LESSON PLAN 23

SCHOOL: _____	LEVEL: Grade 9	LEARNING AREA: English	DATE: _____
TERM: 2	WEEK: 5	LESSON: 3	TIME: 40 minutes | ROLL: _____

Strand: 2.0 Reading

Sub-strand / Focus: Poetry writing; inferring meaning from context

Lesson Learning Outcomes

At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to:

- Knowledge: identify main ideas, supporting details and relevant vocabulary in texts related to environmental conservation. Skills: read and interpret a suitable text, including poetry writing; inferring meaning from context, and support responses with evidence from the text. Attitude: demonstrate curiosity, respect for authors' ideas and a positive attitude towards independent reading.

Key Inquiry Question: How does reading help us understand information and ideas?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Poetry writing; inferring meaning from context” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How does reading help us understand information and ideas?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to preview a suitable text; read silently or aloud; infer meaning from context; identify main ideas and details; answer comprehension questions; and share interpretations.

Step 1: Learners preview the text, identify its type and purpose, and predict content from the title, layout or context.

Step 2: Learners read the selected text independently or collaboratively, using suitable reading strategies to establish meaning.

Step 3: Learners identify key ideas, vocabulary, language or literary features and support interpretations with evidence from the text.

Step 4: Learners discuss responses, answer comprehension or interpretation questions and share conclusions with peers.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How does reading help us understand information and ideas? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How does reading help us understand information and ideas? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

TERM: 2	WEEK: 7	LESSON: 4	TIME: 40 minutes | ROLL: _____

Strand: 2.0 Reading

Sub-strand / Focus: Reading information on consumer rights and responsibilities

Lesson Learning Outcomes

At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to:

- Knowledge: identify main ideas, supporting details and relevant vocabulary in texts related to consumer protection: consumer laws and policies. Skills: read and interpret a suitable text, including reading information on consumer rights and responsibilities, and support responses with evidence from the text. Attitude: demonstrate curiosity, respect for authors' ideas and a positive attitude towards independent reading.

Key Inquiry Question: How does reading help us understand information and ideas?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Reading information on consumer rights and responsibilities” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How does reading help us understand information and ideas?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to preview a suitable text; read silently or aloud; infer meaning from context; identify main ideas and details; answer comprehension questions; and share interpretations. The learner then applies the skill in a new example or short independent task and reflects on progress.

Step 1: Learners preview the text, identify its type and purpose, and predict content from the title, layout or context.

Step 2: Learners read the selected text independently or collaboratively, using suitable reading strategies to establish meaning.

Step 3: Learners identify key ideas, vocabulary, language or literary features and support interpretations with evidence from the text.

Step 4: Learners discuss responses, answer comprehension or interpretation questions and share conclusions with peers.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Step 2: Learners read the selected text independently or collaboratively, using suitable reading strategies to establish meaning.

Step 3: Learners identify key ideas, vocabulary, language or literary features and support interpretations with evidence from the text.

Step 4: Learners discuss responses, answer comprehension or interpretation questions and share conclusions with peers.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How does reading help us understand information and ideas? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

SCHOOL: _____	LEVEL: Grade 9	LEARNING AREA: English	DATE: _____
TERM: 2	WEEK: 9	LESSON: 5	TIME: 40 minutes | ROLL: _____

Strand: 3.0 Grammar in Use

Sub-strand / Focus: Order of adjectives

Lesson Learning Outcomes

At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to:

- Knowledge: explain the form and use of order of adjectives. Skills: identify and use order of adjectives accurately in meaningful spoken and written sentences. Attitude: demonstrate care and self-correction when using language.

Key Inquiry Question: How does accurate grammar make communication clearer?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Order of adjectives” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How does accurate grammar make communication clearer?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to notice examples in a contextual passage; infer the language rule; classify examples; complete guided exercises; and apply the structure in original sentences.

Step 1: Learners observe examples and identify the language pattern, concept or feature being studied.

Step 2: Learners discuss rules and examples in pairs or groups and complete guided practice tasks.

Step 3: Learners apply the target skill to new sentences, passages or communication situations and explain their choices.

Step 4: Learners compare responses, correct errors and summarise the language principle or strategy.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Step 2: Learners discuss rules and examples in pairs or groups and complete guided practice tasks.

Step 3: Learners apply the target skill to new sentences, passages or communication situations and explain their choices.

Step 4: Learners compare responses, correct errors and summarise the language principle or strategy.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How does accurate grammar make communication clearer? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

TERM: 3	WEEK: 12	LESSON: 1	TIME: 40 minutes | ROLL: _____

Strand: 3.0 Grammar in Use

Sub-strand / Focus: Comparison of adverbs

Lesson Learning Outcomes

At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to:

- Knowledge: explain the form and use of comparison of adverbs. Skills: identify and use comparison of adverbs accurately in meaningful spoken and written sentences. Attitude: demonstrate care and self-correction when using language.

Key Inquiry Question: How does accurate grammar make communication clearer?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Comparison of adverbs” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How does accurate grammar make communication clearer?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to notice examples in a contextual passage; infer the language rule; classify examples; complete guided exercises; and apply the structure in original sentences. The learner then applies the skill in a new example or short independent task and reflects on progress.

Step 1: Learners observe examples and identify the language pattern, concept or feature being studied.

Step 2: Learners discuss rules and examples in pairs or groups and complete guided practice tasks.

Step 1: Learners observe examples and identify the language pattern, concept or feature being studied.

Step 2: Learners discuss rules and examples in pairs or groups and complete guided practice tasks.

Step 3: Learners apply the target skill to new sentences, passages or communication situations and explain their choices.

Step 4: Learners compare responses, correct errors and summarise the language principle or strategy.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How does accurate grammar make communication clearer? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

Sub-strand / Focus: Class reader – lessons learnt

Lesson Learning Outcomes

At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to:

- Knowledge: identify selected literary elements and features relevant to class reader – lessons learnt. Skills: analyse a passage from the school-selected play with reference to class reader – lessons learnt and support ideas with textual evidence. Attitude: appreciate literature and respect diverse interpretations and experiences.

Key Inquiry Question: How do literary elements help us understand a play?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Class reader – lessons learnt” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How do literary elements help us understand a play?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to read an extract from the school-selected KICD-approved play; identify relevant literary features; discuss characters, events and ideas; cite evidence; and present a brief response.

Step 1: Learners preview the text, identify its type and purpose, and predict content from the title, layout or context.

Step 2: Learners read the selected text independently or collaboratively, using suitable reading strategies to establish meaning.

Step 3: Learners identify key ideas, vocabulary, language or literary features and support interpretations with evidence from the text.

Step 4: Learners discuss responses, answer comprehension or interpretation questions and share conclusions with peers.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. 30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to read an extract from the school-selected KICD-approved play; identify relevant literary features; discuss characters, events and ideas; cite evidence; and present a brief response.

Step 1: Learners preview the text, identify its type and purpose, and predict content from the title, layout or context.

Step 2: Learners read the selected text independently or collaboratively, using suitable reading strategies to establish meaning.

Step 3: Learners identify key ideas, vocabulary, language or literary features and support interpretations with evidence from the text.

Step 4: Learners discuss responses, answer comprehension or interpretation questions and share conclusions with peers.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How do literary elements help us understand a play? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Class reader – style” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How do literary elements help us understand a play?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to read an extract from the school-selected KICD-approved play; identify relevant literary features; discuss characters, events and ideas; cite evidence; and present a brief response. The learner then applies the skill in a new example or short independent task and reflects on progress.

Step 1: Learners preview the text, identify its type and purpose, and predict content from the title, layout or context.

Step 2: Learners read the selected text independently or collaboratively, using suitable reading strategies to establish meaning.

Step 3: Learners identify key ideas, vocabulary, language or literary features and support interpretations with evidence from the text.

Step 4: Learners discuss responses, answer comprehension or interpretation questions and share conclusions with peers.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How do literary elements help us understand a play? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

- Knowledge: describe the purpose, audience and key features of filling forms – application forms. Skills: plan, draft, revise and present a coherent piece of writing related to social and mass media. Attitude: demonstrate originality, neatness and responsibility in producing written work.

Key Inquiry Question: How can writing communicate ideas clearly and effectively?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Filling forms – application forms” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How can writing communicate ideas clearly and effectively?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to analyse a model text; brainstorm and organise ideas; prepare a draft; revise grammar, spelling and punctuation with peer feedback; and publish a final version.

Step 1: Learners examine a model text and identify its purpose, audience, format and key language features.

Step 2: Learners brainstorm, select and organise ideas relevant to the writing task and prepare a first draft.

Step 3: Learners revise the draft for content, coherence, grammar, spelling, punctuation, legibility and required format.

Step 4: Learners edit, publish or present the final work and use peer feedback to identify strengths and areas for improvement.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How can writing communicate ideas clearly and effectively? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

Sub-strand / Focus: Mechanics of writing – abbreviations and acronyms

Lesson Learning Outcomes

At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to:

- Knowledge: describe the purpose, audience and key features of mechanics of writing – abbreviations and acronyms. Skills: plan, draft, revise and present a coherent piece of writing related to income generating activities. Attitude: demonstrate originality, neatness and responsibility in producing written work.

Key Inquiry Question: How can writing communicate ideas clearly and effectively?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Mechanics of writing – abbreviations and acronyms” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How can writing communicate ideas clearly and effectively?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to analyse a model text; brainstorm and organise ideas; prepare a draft; revise grammar, spelling and punctuation with peer feedback; and publish a final version. The learner then applies the skill in a new example or short independent task and reflects on progress.

Step 1: Learners examine a model text and identify its purpose, audience, format and key language features.

Step 2: Learners brainstorm, select and organise ideas relevant to the writing task and prepare a first draft.

Step 3: Learners revise the draft for content, coherence, grammar, spelling, punctuation, legibility and required format.

Step 4: Learners edit, publish or present the final work and use peer feedback to identify strengths and areas for improvement.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How can writing communicate ideas clearly and effectively? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

SCHOOL: _____	LEVEL: Grade 9	LEARNING AREA: English	DATE: _____
TERM: 4	WEEK: 25	LESSON: 1	TIME: 40 minutes | ROLL: _____

Strand: 1.0 Listening and Speaking

Sub-strand / Focus: Extensive listening – speeches

Lesson Learning Outcomes

At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to:

- Knowledge: identify and explain key features of extensive listening – speeches in the context of sea travel. Skills: apply appropriate listening and speaking strategies when discussing sea travel. Attitude: demonstrate confidence, courtesy and respect for differing views during oral interaction.

Key Inquiry Question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Extensive listening – speeches” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to listen to a model dialogue, speech or recording; identify language features; practise in pairs or groups; role-play or deliver a short oral response; and give constructive feedback.

Step 1: Learners listen to or observe a model dialogue, speech, oral text or recording and identify its purpose, audience and key features.

Step 2: In pairs or groups, learners practise the target language feature or oral skill through guided tasks, discussion or role-play.

Step 3: Learners prepare and deliver a short oral response, presentation or performance, using appropriate language, turn-taking and expression.

Step 4: Learners listen respectfully to peers, give constructive feedback and reflect on how effectively they communicated.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

GRADE 9 ENGLISH – LESSON PLAN 132

SCHOOL: _____	LEVEL: Grade 9	LEARNING AREA: English	DATE: _____
TERM: 4	WEEK: 27	LESSON: 2	TIME: 40 minutes | ROLL: _____

Strand: 1.0 Listening and Speaking

Sub-strand / Focus: Intonation in sentences – question tags

Lesson Learning Outcomes

At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to:

- Knowledge: identify and explain key features of intonation in sentences – question tags in the context of sports: world cup (football). Skills: apply appropriate listening and speaking strategies when discussing sports: world cup (football). Attitude: demonstrate confidence, courtesy and respect for differing views during oral interaction.

Key Inquiry Question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Intonation in sentences – question tags” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to listen to a model dialogue, speech or recording; identify language features; practise in pairs or groups; role-play or deliver a short oral response; and give constructive feedback. The learner then applies the skill in a new example or short independent task and reflects on progress.

Step 1: Learners listen to or observe a model dialogue, speech, oral text or recording and identify its purpose, audience and key features.

Step 2: In pairs or groups, learners practise the target language feature or oral skill through guided tasks, discussion or role-play.

Step 3: Learners prepare and deliver a short oral response, presentation or performance, using appropriate language, turn-taking and expression.

Step 4: Learners listen respectfully to peers, give constructive feedback and reflect on how effectively they communicated.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

Step 2: In pairs or groups, learners practise the target language feature or oral skill through guided tasks, discussion or role-play.

Step 3: Learners prepare and deliver a short oral response, presentation or performance, using appropriate language, turn-taking and expression.

Step 4: Learners listen respectfully to peers, give constructive feedback and reflect on how effectively they communicated.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Where a class reader or play is involved, use the school-selected KICD-approved text and avoid assuming a particular title.

5 minutes – Conclusion

Learners summarise the main learning and respond to the inquiry question: How can effective listening and speaking improve communication? They complete a brief exit task, such as stating a key feature, answering a comprehension question, performing one oral response or editing one sentence.

Assessment

Suggested assessment evidence: Oral performance, reading record, comprehension questions, grammar exercise, written product, observation rubric and peer/self-assessment as appropriate.

Reflection in the lesson / self-remarks

To be completed after teaching: note learners who achieved the outcomes, evidence of communication or literacy skills, common errors or misconceptions, learners requiring support, and the next instructional step.

GRADE 9 ENGLISH – LESSON PLAN 143

SCHOOL: _____	LEVEL: Grade 9	LEARNING AREA: English	DATE: _____
TERM: 4	WEEK: 29	LESSON: 3	TIME: 40 minutes | ROLL: _____

Strand: 2.0 Reading

Sub-strand / Focus: Reading texts about world tourist attractions

Lesson Learning Outcomes

At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to:

- Knowledge: identify main ideas, supporting details and relevant vocabulary in texts related to tourist attraction sites: world. Skills: read and interpret a suitable text, including reading texts about world tourist attractions, and support responses with evidence from the text. Attitude: demonstrate curiosity, respect for authors' ideas and a positive attitude towards independent reading.

Key Inquiry Question: How does reading help us understand information and ideas?

Learning Resources: KICD-approved Grade 9 English learner's book; school-selected KICD-approved play; dictionaries; charts; audio/video resources; worksheets; library and digital texts.

Organization of Learning Learners work individually, in pairs and in small groups. They listen, speak, read, analyse language, discuss, rehearse, draft, revise and present according to the focus of the lesson. Learners give and receive respectful peer feedback.

Lesson Development

5 minutes – Introduction

Connect “Reading texts about world tourist attractions” to learners’ prior knowledge and familiar communication or literacy experiences. Present a short stimulus such as a dialogue, text extract, picture, question or model. Learners make observations, share initial ideas and consider the inquiry question: How does reading help us understand information and ideas?

30 minutes – Lesson Development

Learning experiences from the scheme: The learner is guided to preview a suitable text; read silently or aloud; infer meaning from context; identify main ideas and details; answer comprehension questions; and share interpretations.

Step 1: Learners preview the text, identify its type and purpose, and predict content from the title, layout or context.

Step 2: Learners read the selected text independently or collaboratively, using suitable reading strategies to establish meaning.

Step 3: Learners identify key ideas, vocabulary, language or literary features and support interpretations with evidence from the text.

Step 4: Learners discuss responses, answer comprehension or interpretation questions and share conclusions with peers.

Extended Activities

Learners who complete the core task extend their learning by creating an additional example, applying the skill to a new real-life context, or preparing a short independent response. Learners needing support use a model, vocabulary bank, guided questions, paired rehearsal or a writing/reading frame. Implementation Notes

This collection contains 150 Grade 9 English lesson plans arranged across Terms 1, 2 and 3 according to the teacher-prepared full-year scheme. The strand, focus, outcomes, inquiry questions, learning resources and assessment methods are carried forward from that scheme.

The annual scheme uses a practical allocation of 50 lessons per term and 5 lessons per week for 10 teaching weeks. Schools should adjust pacing to the official detailed KICD design, school calendar, learner needs and selected KICD-approved class reader.

This is an original teacher-prepared resource aligned to the Grade 9 English curriculum design, not an official KICD publication. Review the exact theme sequence and class-reader selections against the current approved school curriculum plan before use.
