JUNIOR SCHOOL LEARNING HUB

GRADE 8 ENGLISH — SCHEME OF WORK — TERM 1 — 2027

School: _____ Teacher: _____ TSC No.: _____ Grade: 8 Year: 2027

Curriculum basis: KICD Junior School Curriculum Design – English, Grade 8, revised 2024. The design allocates 150 suggested lessons: Listening and Speaking 30; Reading 1 and 2 60; Grammar in Use 30; Writing 30. The design notes that suggested lesson numbers may be adjusted to context.

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of human rights, equality, dignity, responsibilities and respectful participation; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of scientific discoveries, inventions, technology and their effects on society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of causes, effects, prevention and control of pollution; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of consumer choices, rights, responsibilities and wise purchasing; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of friendship, peer influence, cooperation and respectful relationships; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of support, recovery, inclusion and reintegration in society; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	1.1.1 Polite Language (telephone etiquette)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify polite telephone expressions and conduct a courteous telephone conversation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model calls; identify polite phrases; role-play calls and message taking; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one be polite when speaking over the telephone?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	2.1.1 Oral presentations – songs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: present a song orally with appropriate voice, expression and confidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a song; discuss its message; rehearse and present songs linked to the theme; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can songs communicate ideas and feelings?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Listening and Speaking	3.1.1 Listening comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to spoken texts and respond to relevant information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a theme-related spoken text; identify main ideas and details; answer oral questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does attentive listening improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	4.1.1 Selective listening	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen selectively to identify specific information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen for requested facts; complete information grids; compare responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we listen for specific information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	5.1.1 Pronunciation	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: pronounce selected sounds and words clearly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to model pronunciation; practise target sounds and words; give peer feedback; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is clear pronunciation important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Listening and Speaking	6.1.1 Conversational skills – disagreeing politely	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: disagree politely using appropriate expressions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study conversational expressions; practise respectful disagreement in pairs and groups; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we disagree without offending others?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	7.1.1 Listening for details – responding appropriately	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify details in spoken texts and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to short accounts; note details; respond to questions and prompts; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we pay attention to details?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	8.1.1 Oral Narratives – myths	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: narrate and listen to myths using appropriate oral skills; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a myth; identify narrative features; retell it with expression; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an oral narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Listening and Speaking	9.1.1 Pronunciation – sounds and stress	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use appropriate sounds and stress when speaking; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to word and sentence models; mark stress; practise in meaningful sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does stress affect meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	10.1.1 Oral Presentations	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver an organised oral presentation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: research a theme-related topic; organise key points; present and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes an effective oral presentation?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	11.1.1 Interviews	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: conduct and respond to an interview using suitable questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: prepare interview questions; role-play interviewer and interviewee; record key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do interviews help us obtain information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Listening and Speaking	12.1.1 Listening to respond – attitude	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify a speaker's attitude and respond appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to varied spoken texts; infer attitude from words and tone; justify responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a speaker's attitude be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Listening and Speaking	13.1.1 Extensive Listening – poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: listen to poems and respond to their ideas and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: listen to a poem more than once; identify message, mood and selected language features; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What can we learn by listening to poems?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Listening and Speaking	14.1.1 Pronunciation and Intonation – silent consonant sounds	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: recognise silent consonants and use appropriate intonation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify silent consonants in words; listen to models; practise sentences with suitable intonation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronunciation and intonation support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Listening and Speaking	15.1.1 Oral reports – events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare and deliver a clear oral report about an event; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: sequence event details; prepare brief notes; deliver an oral report and answer questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can an event be reported clearly?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	1.2.1 Extensive Reading: Independent Reading	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: select and read print and non-print texts for information and enjoyment; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: skim and scan age-appropriate materials; read independently; discuss ideas and vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should one read widely?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	2.2.1 Simple poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read simple poems and interpret their meaning; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud and silently; identify message, mood and vocabulary; discuss responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poems communicate meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading	3.2.1 Intensive reading – given texts	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read given texts closely to locate and interpret information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: preview the text; identify main ideas and supporting details; answer comprehension questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does close reading improve understanding?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	4.2.1 Intensive reading – reading strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply appropriate reading strategies to understand texts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: practise skimming, scanning and close reading; select strategies for different purposes; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which reading strategy suits a given purpose?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	5.2.1 Study skills – Reference materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use reference materials to find meanings and information; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use dictionaries, thesauruses and other reference materials; record and apply new vocabulary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do reference materials support learning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading	6.2.1 Reading fluency – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read a poem fluently, accurately and with expression; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model fluent reading; practise pace, accuracy and phrasing; read aloud to peers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes reading aloud fluent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	7.2.1 Intensive reading – visuals	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret information presented in visuals; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study charts, maps, graphs or illustrations; identify labels, trends and key information; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do visuals communicate information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	8.2.1 Intensive reading – poem	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret ideas and language in a poem; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read and annotate a poem; discuss imagery, message and vocabulary; support interpretations; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do poets use language to create meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading	9.2.1 Extensive reading – fiction – Characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and discuss characters in fiction; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a suitable story; identify main characters and traits; support views with textual evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do characters contribute to a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	10.2.1 Study skills – Note Making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify key points and make useful notes from a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a theme-related text; identify key points; use headings, abbreviations and paraphrase; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes notes useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	11.2.1 Extensive Reading – non-fiction materials	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read non-fiction materials for information and understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select suitable non-fiction texts; identify facts and key ideas; discuss information gathered; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why read non-fiction texts?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading	12.2.1 Reading comprehension	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a text and respond to comprehension questions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a passage; infer meaning; explain vocabulary in context and support answers; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do readers infer meaning from a text?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading	13.2.1 Intensive Reading – comprehension strategies	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use comprehension strategies to understand a text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: predict, question, clarify and summarise during reading; discuss evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Which strategies help resolve comprehension difficulties?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading	14.2.1 Study skills – Summary and note making	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: summarise texts and organise notes; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify main points; distinguish essential from supporting details; write a concise summary; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can a long text be condensed accurately?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading	15.2.1 Reading Fluency	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read information texts accurately, fluently and with understanding; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: model reading; practise phrasing and pace; read aloud and respond to questions; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does fluency support comprehension?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	1.4.1 Intensive reading – class reader – sequencing events	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: sequence events in a short-story anthology text; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected approved story; identify events; arrange them in chronological order; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is sequence important in a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	2.4.1 Class reader – setting (time and place)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the time and place setting in a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read an extract; identify clues about time and place; explain how setting shapes events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does setting influence a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Reading 2	3.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poetry; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems; identify ideas and selected poetic features; discuss personal responses; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does poetry express ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	4.4.1 Class reader – characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: describe characters and support descriptions with evidence; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a story extract; identify character traits; cite actions and dialogue as evidence; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How are characters revealed?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	5.4.1 Class reader – style (dialogue and repetition)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify dialogue and repetition and explain their effect; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate dialogue and repetition; read passages aloud; discuss their contribution to style; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do dialogue and repetition affect a story?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Reading 2	6.4.1 Class reader – main idea	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify the main idea in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a selected story; distinguish main idea from details; explain the message; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can the main idea be identified?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	7.4.1 Class Reader – relationship between characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: explain relationships between characters; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify interactions and dialogue; infer relationships; support explanations from the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do relationships shape events?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	8.4.1 Intensive reading – poetry	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: interpret a poem through close reading; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read a poem; explore vocabulary and imagery; discuss message and mood; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What clues help us interpret a poem?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Reading 2	9.4.1 Intensive reading – Similes and Metaphors	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and interpret similes and metaphors in a short story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain comparisons; create sentences using similes and metaphors; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do similes and metaphors enrich expression?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	10.4.1 Class reader – relating events to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: relate story events to real-life experiences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key events; compare with familiar situations; discuss similarities and differences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can stories relate to real life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	11.4.1 Class reader – lessons learnt	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify lessons from a story; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: discuss characters' choices and consequences; state lessons; support views with events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What lessons can readers learn from stories?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
4	Reading 2	12.4.1 Class reader – writing about characters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write about characters using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: select a character; gather evidence; organise and write a character description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can we write clearly about a character?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Reading 2	13.4.1 Class reader – style (personification, flashback)	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify personification and flashback and explain their use; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate examples; explain effects; discuss how these features shape the story; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do writers use personification and flashback?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Reading 2	14.4.1 Class reader – relating ideas to real life	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: connect ideas in a story with real-life situations; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify key ideas; discuss their relevance; give examples from everyday life; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why should we relate literature to life?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Reading 2	15.4.1 Poems	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: read and respond to poems; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: read poems aloud; discuss message, mood and language; compose a brief response; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can poems influence readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	1.3.1 Word classes – Compound Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use compound nouns in singular and plural forms; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify compound nouns in texts; classify forms; form plurals and use them in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why use compound nouns?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	2.3.1 Word classes – Collective Nouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use collective nouns appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify collective nouns; match them to groups; construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do collective nouns make language concise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Grammar in Use	3.3.1 Primary Auxiliaries	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use primary auxiliary verbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify be, have and do forms in context; complete sentences; construct questions and negatives; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do primary auxiliaries help form sentences?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	4.3.1 Verbs and Tenses	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use verbs and tenses appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify verbs and tense forms; transform sentences; write about theme-related events; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do tenses show time?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	5.3.1 Adjectives	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adjectives to describe nouns; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate adjectives; compare forms; describe people, places and objects; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adjectives make descriptions precise?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	6.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use adverbs appropriately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverbs; classify their functions; revise sentences using suitable adverbs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs add information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	7.3.1 Pronouns	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use pronouns correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify pronouns and referents; replace repeated nouns; practise agreement in sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do pronouns improve cohesion?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	8.3.1 Simple Prepositions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use simple prepositions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: locate prepositions; show relationships of place, time and direction; complete sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do prepositions show relationships?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	9.3.1 Conjunctions	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use conjunctions to connect ideas; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify conjunctions; join clauses and phrases; construct coherent sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do conjunctions connect ideas?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Grammar in Use	10.3.1 Determiners and Quantifiers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: identify and use determiners and quantifiers; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: classify determiners and quantifiers; complete phrases; edit sentences for accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do determiners and quantifiers clarify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	11.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives or other adverbs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify adverb functions; select precise adverbs; edit and construct sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do adverbs modify meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	12.3.1 Adverbs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply adverbs accurately in varied contexts; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: compare adverb placement and meaning; correct errors; use adverbs in connected writing; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does adverb choice affect a sentence?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Grammar in Use	13.3.1 Compound Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: construct compound sentences using suitable conjunctions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify independent clauses; join clauses; punctuate compound sentences; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can independent clauses be joined?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Grammar in Use	14.3.1 Active and Passive Voice	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: distinguish and transform active and passive constructions; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify subject and object; transform sentences; compare emphasis and meaning; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	When is passive voice useful?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Grammar in Use	15.3.1 Interrogative Sentences	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: form and punctuate interrogative sentences; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify question forms; construct varied questions; use correct word order and punctuation; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do we form clear questions?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	1.5.1 Handwriting – Legibility	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write legibly and neatly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: copy and rewrite text; practise letter formation, spacing and neat correction; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is legibility important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	2.5.1 Punctuation marks	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: use punctuation marks accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify punctuation in texts; punctuate sentences; edit a theme-related paragraph; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does punctuation guide readers?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	3.5.1 Narrative paragraphs	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a coherent narrative paragraph; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan a sequence; write a paragraph with a clear beginning, middle and end; revise; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative paragraph coherent?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	4.5.1 Paragraphing using examples	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: organise ideas into paragraphs; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study model texts; group related ideas; write and revise paragraphs; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	Why is paragraphing important?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
5	Writing	5.5.1 Friendly letter	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a friendly letter using appropriate format and language; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify letter parts; plan purpose and recipient; draft and edit a friendly letter; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a friendly letter effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	6.5.1 Commonly misspelt words	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell commonly misspelt words correctly; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify spelling errors; practise word patterns; edit written work and use dictionaries; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can spelling accuracy be improved?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	7.5.1 The writing process – narrative composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: apply the writing process to produce a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: brainstorm, plan, draft, revise, edit and publish a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does the writing process improve a composition?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
1	Writing	8.5.1 Composition – self assessment	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: assess and improve own composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: use a checklist; review organisation, grammar and spelling; revise work; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can writers assess their own work?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	9.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write an organised narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: plan plot and characters; draft a narrative; revise for coherence and accuracy; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a narrative engaging?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	10.5.1 Packing and Shopping Lists	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write clear and organised packing and shopping lists; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify list features; group items; write and check lists for a given purpose; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How do lists help organise information?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
2	Writing	11.5.1 Spelling Antonyms, Synonyms and Numbers	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: spell and use antonyms, synonyms and number words accurately; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: match word pairs; practise spelling; write numbers in words and use them in context; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How does accurate spelling support meaning?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
3	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	12.5.1 Writing process – dialogues	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a dialogue using appropriate format and punctuation; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: identify dialogue conventions; plan speakers; draft, punctuate and edit a dialogue; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes written dialogue clear?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
1	Writing	13.5.1 Narrative Composition	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: develop and write a narrative composition; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: generate ideas; organise events; draft, revise and proofread a narrative; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can events be organised in a narrative?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
2	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____

LSN	STRAND	SUB-STRAND	LESSON LEARNING OUTCOMES	LEARNING EXPERIENCES	KEY INQUIRY QUESTIONS	LEARNING RESOURCES	ASSESSMENT METHODS	REFLEC
3	Writing	14.5.1 Descriptive writing	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: write a descriptive text using relevant details; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: observe a person, place or object; gather sensory details; organise and draft a description; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	How can description create a clear picture?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
4	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____
5	Writing	15.5.1 Functional Writing – notices, posters	At the end of the lesson, the learner should be able to: Knowledge: prepare notices and posters for a specific audience and purpose; apply the skill independently in a new task related to the theme. Skills: demonstrate the relevant listening, speaking, reading, grammar or writing skill. Attitudes: show confidence, respect, responsibility and appreciation of effective communication.	In groups, learners are guided to: study examples; identify essential information; design and present a notice or poster; discuss and apply the skill in the context of wildlife, conservation, habitats and responsible use of natural resources; share their work and give constructive feedback.	What makes a notice or poster effective?	KICD-approved Grade 8 English learner's book; approved short-story anthology; dictionaries; thesaurus; charts; audio recordings; digital texts; worksheets; locally available materials.	Oral performance; observation checklist; reading record; comprehension questions; grammar exercise; written product; peer/self-assessment, as appropriate.	_____